2. In no more than 500 words, sum up the legacy of the Atlee government from 1945-1951.

THE COURSE

AQA GCE History AS and A-Level

A Level History at The West Coventry Sixth Form encourages you to explore the events and issues that have shaped the world we live in. The focus is on modern European history and 20th century British history, both with an emphasis on change and development over time. It is concerned with every aspect of the human experience and helps us to understand and make sense of today's world. It also helps to "train the mind," encouraging the skills of critical judgement and the clear presentation of arguments. Students will gain a real insight into the ways historians work and enjoy the challenge and satisfaction of researching into interesting aspects of history. There is also an opportunity to complete an in-depth study on a specially selected area of British.

The course is comprised of 3 components: a breadth study (component 1), a depth study (component 2) these both run throughout the duration of the AS and A-Level course, and the historical enquiry (component 3).

AS Component 1 = Breadth Study. Is an internal written exam taking 1 ½ hours, total marks out of 50, students must answer 2 essay questions, 1 of which is compulsory and using sources.

A-Level Component 1 = Breadth Study. Written exam taking 2 ½ hours, total marks out of 80, students must answer 3 essay questions, 1 of which is compulsory and using sources.

The topic is: The quest for political stability; Germany, 1871 – 1991.

AS Component 2 = Depth Study. Is a internal Written exam taking 1 ½ hours, total marks out of 50, students must answer 2 essay questions, 1 of which is compulsory and using sources.

A-Level Component 2 = Depth Study. Written exam taking 2 ½ hours, total marks out of 80, students must answer 3 essay questions, 1 of which is compulsory and using sources.

The topic is: The Making of Modern Britain, 1951–2007

AQA | History | Subject content | 2S The Making of Modern Britain, 1951–2007

Component 3 = Non-exam assessment (A-level only). It will be a topic that you need to research by yourself, under the guidance of your teacher, then produce an essay of approximately 4,500 words.

ENTRY QUALIFICATIONS

Normally a grade 6 in History at GCSE is required, though a grade 5 would be considered in certain circumstances. Students who have not taken GCSE History would be considered based on their overall performance at GCSE (especially English) and a proven commitment to background reading and learning historical skills.

IS THERE ANYTHING ELSE I NEED TO KNOW?

Students play an active part in lessons with discussion work and presentations and are expected to contribute their views and opinions in class. They are encouraged to research topics independently by reading widely and making use of specific internet sites to locate relevant information. A level History should be enjoyable but it is a challenging subject that requires a positive attitude and willingness to learn. Join a library and start reading some of the books on the lists.

FUTURE OPPORTUNITIES

Employers value History students because of the wide range of skills they learn and develop as well as their ability to work independently or as part of a team. An A Level in History is good preparation for many careers such as Law, Journalism, Politics, Media, Police, Social Work, Teaching and many other areas of work.
